

Prof R Gopichandran teaches at the NTPC School of Business, India. His areas of work, over thirty two years include technical assistance to fulfill commitments to multilateral environmental agreements, reality checks for integrated mitigation and adaptation outcomes, chemical ecology and science, technology and environment communication. This was in close association with the Compliance Assistance programme of the OzonAction programme of the UNEP as part of his activities at the Centre for Environment Education, Gujarat Energy Research and Management Institute, Vigyan Prasar and The NTPC School of Business. He served as the Director of Vigyan Prasar, an autonomous organization of the Department of Science & Technology, Government of India; is a Fellow of the Indian GeoPhysical Union and an alumnus of the International Visitors Leadership Programme of the Dept of State, United States of America.